ep. 211

Today Bill Parish and I discuss the relevant takeaways, and perhaps the deeper significance of what my latest extended stay at GTT and listen to the production release of the KRONOS Perpetual Turntable may have to offer.

My extended experiences with the production version of the KRONOS Perpetual Turntable which I first reported on here last April 14th with Episode 170, have convinced me that it may be the most important and fully realized product to come from KRONOS mastermind Louis Desjardins since the introduction of the Contra-Rotational principle that is the patented foundation of all his designs.
